

I have been to every country of the world and Spiekermann came to the rescue when it came to visiting the most difficult ones around the world. I began traveling with them since 2016 and some of the countries they helped me visiting include Pakistan, Iraq, and Yemen.

My last country that I dreamt of visiting and was on my bucket list for years was Syria and Spiekermann Travel succeeded in getting me the visa along with 2 other wonderful travelers who joined me on this tour. I enjoyed every bit of it and the picture says it all.

Spiekermann also has best tour guides/ lecturers, enjoyable accommodations, interesting travelers, reasonable prices, and a caring team that swiftly respond to any request whenever you have one.

Thank you and the Spiekermann staff for coordinating the tours that allowed me to finish my list of traveling to the most difficult, interesting countries around the globe.
